

As a Journeys member you will receive emails every now and then with information about hot new destinations or just good deals or ideas for your next adventure. Quality is almost the most important thing for us, so you don't have to worry about getting lots of uninteresting emails. At any time you can of course opt out of our newsletter.

We use our members email address and telephone number to create what we online marketing geeks call a "custom audience". This means that we use your personal information so that we can reach you with advertising on Facebook and Instagram. This is important for us since we are a members club. We want to reach our members with our content but not everyone else.

When you visit our web site we gather data from your web browser in order to tailor make the content we provide our members with on our social media platforms and by email. We use online marketing tools like Google Analytics and Facebook ads manager and tools from other third parties like Adobe, Google, Instagram, Youtube, Adform and Twitter. If you don't want us to gather information this way you turn off the "cookies" function on your web browser.

Welcome to Journeys. If you have any questions please don't hesitate to contact our Managing Director Andrea Rosso on andrea.rosso@journeys.no.
